

The State of Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation and the University of Alaska Fairbanks
Cooperative Extension Service present

Food Safety Regulations at Farmers Markets

Wed., Feb. 26, 10 a.m. – 1 p.m.

Videoconference in the following locations:

Fairbanks: Tanana District office
Juneau: Egan Library
Palmer: Mat-Su College, Room FSM 201
Sitka: UAS, Room 110
Soldotna: Kenai Peninsula College, TBD

Thurs., Feb. 27, 10 a.m. – 1 p.m.

Teleconference and go-to meeting.

Presenters

Kate Idzorek, UAF Cooperative Extension Service
Kate will be providing an overview of marketing strategies, including packaging and sampling.

Lorinda Lhotka, Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation

Lorinda will review ADEC cottage food rules and review the different types of ADEC permits.

Morgan Poloni, Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation

Morgan will discuss temporary food booth rules, resources and setup.

To register, go to:

<http://bit.ly/MarketReg2014>

UAF Cooperative Extension
P.O. Box 756180
Fairbanks, AK 99775
907-474-5211 • jidzorek@alaska.edu

ADEC Food Safety and Sanitation Program
555 Cordova St.
Anchorage, AK 99501
907-269-7501 • morgan.poloni@alaska.gov

www.uaf.edu/ces • 877-520-5211

The University of Alaska Fairbanks is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and educational institution.